SHAPE

What is SHAPE?

SHAPE is an immediate re-entry model of services for those who have been incarcerated as well as those who are otherwise Criminal Justice (CJ) involved through Diversion Courts, Probation, etc. Most outpatient clinics and health home programs throughout the community have some clients who have been or are presently criminal justice involved on some level. What sets Project SHAPE apart from these programs is that the targeted audience for the program is exclusively those who have a criminal justice history.

The track will offer outpatient treatment and Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) for those who have a history or on-going issue with Substance Use Disorder (SUD), mental health services for those with co-occurring disorders, health care management support to assist with the coordination of appropriate housing for those re-entering and/or requiring re-placement to assist with their goals related to Probation, Court, etc. as well as the monitoring of successful relocation once settled.

Huther Doyle employs staff with lived experience as well as those with many years of on-the-job experience working with those who have been justice involved.

HUTHER DOYLE VISION

You are not alone..

Mobile Treatment Unit

Our mobile treatment unit is very busy out in the community helping those struggling and those that may not be able to make it to Huther Doyle or to an emergency room. We have an amazing Harm Reduction Team who is out there on the front lines every day doing this great work, providing Narcan, wound care, substance abuse evaluations, connecting people with the services they need and saving lives!

Health Homes

Not everyone knows that, in addition to our Substance Use Disorder Treatment and work in the community, we are also a Lead Health Home. We are the Lead Health Home in the Finger Lakes Region under HHUNY.

What is a Health Home, you ask? It sounds like a place but it's not. It is it's an extensive network of support for Medicaid recipients in the community. Our Health Home Care Managers coordinate all the services a person needs to stay healthy and out of the hospital or emergency room.

“What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us.”

RALPH WALDO EMERSON

Employee Spotlight: Kelly Reed, President & CEO

Hello and welcome to Huther Doyle’s new community newsletter. We are so pleased to share the good news of our organization with all of you!

Each edition will feature a member of our staff team and I am kicking off this section by sharing a bit about myself with you. So, to begin, I am privileged to be the President and CEO of Huther Doyle, a position I have held since August of 2016. To say that I love my work is a significant understatement. In fact, I’m not sure there is a single word that could capture all the feelings I have about this job and about all that Huther Doyle represents. It is a small but mighty place that puts people and the community first, above all else. As our tagline aptly says, we are where hope lives, healing begins, and everything is possible.

That saying coincidentally sums up my life as well. I am the youngest of 6 children born into a big, bold, brash Irish American family. My great grandparents on both sides made their way to the United States in the 1800s. The men were farmers and stablemen, and the women were cooks and cleaners for the wealthy families in the area where they settled – including, for instance, the Wadsworth’s of Geneseo. The Wadsworth estate still exists and each time we go to visit the gravesites of our family members, I try to imagine what life was like for them as they worked to provide for their own families in tiny homes and within a much more modest budget than that of their employers. They never really had a lot, but what they had, they cherished, and a couple of things were available in abundance - LOVE and LOYALTY. These carried throughout the generations and are ever present now. That is what makes Huther Doyle so very special to me.

Compared to our colleagues, we are small organization with a modest budget. Nonetheless, the collective love we share for the work we do and the deep loyalty we have for each other, and our consumers is enormous. It is what makes us stand out in a crowd. It is what George Huther and Greg Doyle envisioned when they founded Huther Doyle. It is the fabric of our existence.

As these newsletters appear in your inbox, I hope you’ll take a moment to learn about our services and about our staff. We believe everything is all about the relationships we forge with others. This is one of our ways of forging one with you.

All the best,

Kelly
